

Mansfield Frazier is a writer, editor and publisher whose home is in the Cleveland neighborhood of Hough, which he shares with his wife Brenda and their two dogs, Gypsy and Ginger. In 2010, the non-profit they operate, Neighborhood Solutions, Inc., built The Vineyards of Château of Hough, on a three-quarter acre site in their community with a grant from the Re-Imagining Cleveland Project. His writings appear weekly on CoolCleveland.com, and the Cleveland Leader, and by-weekly in the Cleveland Free Press and Neighborhood Voices. Additionally, he is a regular contributor to the national online publication The Daily Beast.