The public meeting will consist of a brief presentation on the responsibilities of the Cleveland Community Police Commission and the application process. The Selection Panel website also contains background information about the Commission's roles and responsibilities and a list of frequently asked questions pertaining to the application process. In addition to the 10 members recommended by the Selection Panel, the Commission will also include a member appointed by each of the three local police associations: the Cleveland Police Patrolmen's Association, the Fraternal Order of Police and the Black Shield.

The appointed Community Police Commission will work to bring forward recommendations to the Mayor and Cleveland Division of Police on policies and practices that can help strengthen relations between the Cleveland police and the communities they serve.
